SENATOR LODGE BITTERLY ATTACKS ADMINISTRATION POLICY IN MEXICO

Declares Military Occupation of War-Ridden Country is Almost Inevitable

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Senator Lodge launched a bitter attack yesterday on the floor of the senate against the administration's Mexican policy, declaring that the warring and waiting had brought the relations of the two countries to such a pass that it is now all but too late for America to avoid the military occupation of the southern republic.

Lodge declared that it was made for partisan reasons and in an effort to outdistance the administration in the difficult task it faced.

This brought a second attack from the Massachusetts senator, who asserted that President Wilson's personal animosity towards Huerta had not been a factor in his former actions and that now, with Huerta gone and a worse condition resulting, the administration did not know what to do.

The absence of any mention of the ever of Mexico in the president's last message led to the belief, he said, that the president now had no further Mexican policy of any kind.

WILSON DECLARES WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS STATE ISSUE

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—President Wilson again went on public record yesterday as opposing any attempt to secure a constitutional amendment for women's suffrage.

His refusal to endorse or support such a resolution was made to a delegation of Democratic women, representing various suffrage organizations, who waited upon him yesterday.

The president advanced the same reason as he has previously made; that the question is one which properly belongs to the various states and which is not properly a subject for national legislation.

JAPAN HONORS BARNARDISTON OF TSINGTAU

[Associated Press.]
TOKYO—Dressed in full military uniform and wearing the imperial decorations that had been conferred upon them on the previous day, Gen. Barnardiston, commander of the British force at Tsingtau, together with his staff officers, Maj. H. G. Pringle and Capt. G. D. H. Moore, were received in audience by the emperor at the imperial palace. After thanking the emperor for the many gifts and the hospitality that he had displayed to the British troops during the recent war, the party returned to their headquarters in the imperial hotel.

Shortly after noon a luncheon was served in the Hotel Hall at the palace at which Gen. Barnardiston and his officers were the honor guests. Present at the luncheon were H. I. H. Gen. Prince Fushimi, Baron Kato, minister of foreign affairs, Count Okuma, the premier; Gen. Hasegawa, chief of the general staff; Lieut. Gen. Oka, minister of war; Maj. Gen. Oshima, vice-minister of war; Col. Calthrop, British military attaché at Tokyo; Marshal Prince Oyama, Baron Hatono, Count Toda, Lieut. Gen. Tetsuyama, Prince Takatsukasa, Prince Ito, Mr. K. Kawamura, Viscount Fukushima, Lieut. Gen. Oshima, Maj. Gen. Shiba, Col. Sugano, Lieut. Col. Hata, Lieut. Col. Takasu, Maj. Hiwataru and Capt. Morita.

Yesterday the emperor decorated Gen. Barnardiston with the Second Order of the Rising Sun, with double rays. Maj. Pringle was given the Fourth Order of the Rising Sun while the Fifth Order of the Rising Sun was conferred upon Capt. Moore. Non-commissioned officer Staff Sgt. Carraher was decorated with the South Order of the Paulownia. Hon. Capt. Hubert Brand, who is leaving shortly for London after several years' service in Tokio as naval attaché of the British Embassy, was also decorated with the Second Order of the Rising Sun.

Mrs. and Miss Barnardiston and Miss Pringle will arrive in Tokyo today, after a few days spent in Kyoto on their return trip from Seoul, Korea. They will be met at Shimabashi by Mayor Sakatani as well as members of the Ladies' Patriotic Association and wives of many of the prominent officials in the Japanese army. Each of the ladies will be presented with a bouquet of flowers by Mayor Sakatani's daughter. Later the guests, together with Gen. Barnardiston and his officers, will journey to the imperial estate at Koshigaya, in Satsuma, where they have been invited to be the guests of his majesty the emperor at a wild duck hunt.

Miss Ueyehara, daughter of Lieut. Gen. Ueyehara and Miss Miyahara, daughter of Lieut. Col. Miyahara, are in charge of the reception of Miss Barnardiston and Miss Pringle during their stay in Tokio—Japan Advertiser.

Four armed men who held up Maurice Lieberman, an employee of the Star Pleading Co., of New York, who had a $3000 payroll, were arrested by the police.

"Happy" Gardener and Ted Metz of Washington, N. J., were refused admission to school after they had picked up a skunk, mistaking him for a kitten.

WOTHERSPOON IS N. Y. CHIEF OF PUBLIC WORKS

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—The nomination of Maj. Gen. Wotherspoon, former chief of staff, to the position of state superintendent of public works was confirmed in the senate yesterday, over the opposition of a minority which contended that the general's age precluded him from satisfactorily filling the onerous position.

REAR ADMIRAL RANK FOR TWO CAPTAINS

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Capt. De Witt Coffman, commandant of the Boston navy-yard, and Capt. W. F. Fullam, superintendent of the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, were yesterday nominated by the president as rear admirals.

ENORMOUS ECONOMIC LOSSES FROM TYPHOID AND TUBERCULOSIS

Estimates regarding the loss caused by preventable diseases are always interesting, although necessarily general. The smaller the area affected, the more accurate are the figures apt to be. Professor Irving Fisher's estimate, in his report on national vitality, of the economic loss for the country at one and a half billions a year is familiar to students of public health conditions. An estimate recently issued by the Minnesota State Board of Health shows the economic loss from death from typhoid fever in Minnesota in the last six years to be $21,558,940, while the deaths from tuberculosis are six times as great and the loss three times as great as from typhoid, or $66,583,320, making a total loss from the two diseases alone of $88,542,260 for six years, or an annual loss of $14,757,043. In making this estimate the following economic values were used in computing the financial loss from deaths: professional, business men and farmers, $500; skilled laborers, $300; unskilled laborers and domestics, $200; married women, $200; children under 15 years of age, $100. These valuations are conservative and should represent the minimum rather than the maximum loss.—Journal of American Medical Association.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and luxuriant at once—No more falling hair.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out fast, and die; then the hair falls out fast, and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff! No itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—advertisement.

FORTUNES OF WAR WITH CARRANZA; VILLA BADLY BEATEN NEAR TORREON

Victorious Troops Capture Two
Train Loads of War
Munitions

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Despatches received by the Carranza agency here last night say that Gen. Villarreal has administered the first decisive defeat in Villa's career in a battle which took place yesterday at Marta, near Torreon.

With 15,000 Carranza troops, Villarreal attacked 25,000 men under the personal command of Villa and defeated him badly, capturing two trainloads of arms and ammunition.

The Villa forces are reported to be retreating on Torreon, pursued and harassed by the victorious Villarreal. Another battle is expected at the latter place, where Villa will probably endeavor to make a stand.

WAR'S HORRORS INCREASED BY NEW INVENTION

[By Latest Mail]

GLOUCESTER, Mass.—A new type of projectile, which would scatter a white-hot mixture of molten steel over the object of attack, and at the same time permeate the atmosphere with a deadly gas which would make it impossible for fire-fighters to approach, has been invented by John Hays Hammond, Jr., according to a statement made by the inventor. The new missile may soon appear in the European war, as some of the belligerent nations are now negotiating for its purchase, he said. The United States government at present is conducting experiments with the new projectile at Sandy Hook, he added.

The missile is designed for use in siege guns, as an aid in destroying towns and dirigible balloons.

Mr. Hammond explained that the projectile carries an aluminothermic mixture which, five seconds after the projectile is discharged, turns the steel inside to a white hot mixture at a temperature of 5400 degrees Fahrenheit.

When the projectile hits the target, the inventor said, it explodes, its white-hot contents setting fire to whatever inflammable material it strikes. To avoid the possibility of anyone in the locality quenching the flames, Hammond said, he had equipped the projectile with a chamber filled with hydro-cyanic acid, the fumes of which are deadly.

HONOLULU VOICES ITS SORROW AT LOSS OF DR. W. P. FERGUSON

Impressive Memorial Services
Are Held for Late Head of Mills School

A representative gathering of territorial and federal officials, army and navy dignitaries, students and members of the congregations of both Old and Oriental churches and delegates from the Mid-Pacific Institute filled Central Union church yesterday afternoon, where public memorial services for Dr. Wilbert Perry Ferguson, late principal of Mills school, were held.

The services were simple but impressive. Many beautiful floral tributes surrounded the bronze urn which held the ashes of the man whose loss as an educator, church and public welfare worker, came as a severe blow to Honolulu. Among the floral tributes was a great floral pillow from the Mid-Pacific Institute, of which Mills school is a part.

The urn, which stood in front of the altar, bore a small plate on which was inscribed Dr. Ferguson's name, his age and the date of his death. Mrs. Ferguson and her son and two daughters were attended by Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Dr. and Mrs. S. L. Barnes, Mrs. Philip Frear and Mrs. Ernest Fox. The services were conducted by Dr. Doremus Scudder, Rev. A. A. Ebersole and Dr. John W. Wadman. The memorial address was delivered by Doctor Wadman. Mr. Ebersole reading from the Scriptures and Dr. Scudder offering prayer. The church choir and a male quartet sang.

Taking the subject "A Prince Has Fallen," for his memorial address, Dr. Wadman spoke in part as follows:

"No man in all these years has ever come to live in our city to reside in our territory and in so short a time make such a deep and lasting favorable impression and become so widely known and esteemed by all classes.

"From the very first he became one of us, one in our common interests and sympathies, our united efforts for civic betterment and humanity's uplift, one in our joys and sorrows, one in our failures and victories.

"He gave us of his love in unstinted measure and we gave him ours in happy and abundant reciprocations.

"He was a princely preacher, a man of God with an eloquent tone aflame with a message divine. Over at the jail he was the one man whom the inmates requested should come again and again. Up at Schofield, down on the plantations, in our Oriental churches, as well as here in Central Union which he loved so dearly, with rare tact of adapting himself to his audience and to occasion the people heard him gladly being a man sent of God.

"He was princely in scholarship—a prince among the students. How dearly his pupils loved him! But few understood boy nature as he did. He knew all by name, loved them as his very own, inspired them with his lofty ideals and rejoiced in all their advance and achievements.

"His was also the missionary spirit of a Paul, the missionary consecration of an early coming in obedience to what he felt was a divine call, to these islands of the sea, so sacred with missionary association, that he might find here an opportunity to mould the characters of young men of various nationalities in order that they become messengers of the gospel to the very ends of the earth. What a world vision was his!

"He was princely in his personality, winning with a pleasant smile in his eyes and a cheerful word upon his lips, friends here and there elsewhere, thoroughly democratic, a man among men, we never shall see his like again.

"In the home as a husband and father, none more loving and beloved. Princely too was he on his bed of pain. He suffered like a prince, patient, brave, thoughtful of others, sympathetic to the end, conscious to the very last, with a loving farewell for his dear ones, fully resigned, longing to be at rest, ready for heaven. He was a Christ-filled man and is now a glory-crowned saint.

"Our loss, the loss to the nation, to our territory, to our city, the unspeakable loss to Mills School; to the Chinese Mission; to all organized forces working for righteousness; his loss to you and me, to many of us as a personal friend; his loss as a loving devoted husband, kind, indulgent father; our irreparable loss, I say, is his eternal gain.

"He has fought the good fight, kept the faith, finished his mission and now from the hands of his risen Lord and master has received the crown of righteousness reserved for all those who lovingly await his appearing."
